

Tripp 12212

Tripp is a kind, handsome, and educated young man. He has deep, blue eyes and thick, brunette hair, with more quaint features that compliment his face nicely. Tripp is impressively intelligent and currently studies biochemistry! It comes to no surprise that he is also an analytical thinker, and is careful about his decision making. Tripp is a go-getter in life and has big dreams for himself as an engineer or data analyst.

When he is not studying or working, Tripp enjoys soccer, basketball, and especially running. However, don't let these fast paced sports fool you to think that he doesn't have a mild and calm side; Tripp also very much enjoys midnight walks to stargaze and reflect. Tripp can be shy when you first talk to him, but soon enough you realize he just has a laid back personality and is a very kind-hearted individual. We recommend Tripp for any family seeking a donor who is empathetic, smart, and has a positive outlook on life!
