

Hurley (12568) Staff Impression

Hurley is intellectual, compassionate, and a warm-hearted person. He is tall, with brown hair and distinctive blue eyes, with a warm, attractive smile. We were greatly impressed to hear that he recently completed his Ph.D. in chemical engineering and was given the opportunity to successfully help build a chemical engineering technology company from the ground up! His relaxed, calm attitude puts us at ease when he talks about his love for exploring nature and embarking on exciting projects, such as learning how to fly a plane!

Hurley comes from a close-knit, blended family, his father a scientist and his mother an artist. He believes their career choices led to his well-rounded interest and hobbies. Hurley is humorous, inquisitive, highly intelligent, the whole package! We are thankful to have him in our program.
