

Yoda Staff Impression

Standing at 6'3" Yoda is quite tall and has a slender but athletic build. The kind of build you'd expect from a former soccer player and runner. He maintains his fit physique with regular gym workouts. He has lovely green-brown eyes that stand out against his clear olive complexion. He's a no muss, no fuss kind of guy when it comes to his hair and opts to keep his straight light brown hair short. Yoda has a defined jaw line and keeps a very nice, well-maintained beard. He has full lips and shy smile.

Yoda obtained a PhD in mechanical engineering, and currently is a research scientist. And true to form he is constantly putting things together, taking them apart and imagining new ways to create. He's a unique combination of vast intelligence, a little nerdy (loves Star Wars and board games), introverted but funny, standoffish but also kind. Becoming a father has been the greatest adventure for Yoda and part of the reason he joined the donor program, so other people can feel the joy he feels with his child.
