

Staff Impression Detweiler 12317

Detweiler is extremely optimistic, funny, and magnetic! His kindness radiates from him, and his deep dimples are the cherry on top of his already charming attitude. His face is long and oval-shaped, and his deep brown eyes have hints of green that shine framed by his dark brown eyebrows, hair, and beard. His hair is thick, and well-trimmed, and matches his business casual style, typically wearing a crisp button-down and jeans.

From the moment you meet Detweiler, he radiates positivity, a trait he deeply values about himself. His ability to be thoughtful of people around him and to make friends easily are key characteristics of this donor. This thoughtfulness is also reflected in his family values, enjoying time with his brother and family weekly. He is also quite active, and his physical stature is reflective of that of a runner's build and lean muscles. Long-distance running, hiking, and cycling are all physical hobbies he likes to participate in that help prioritize his health. Something that is also very important to him! Hiking helps him engage in his main interest and graduate program: geology. He envisions being a teacher after grad school and flourishing in the academic field sharing his knowledge. He is an excellent donor option for anyone searching for a donor whose personality is irrevocably kind, intelligent, and considerate!
