

Botan 14184

Botan is kind, genuine, adventurous, and a very pleasant guy. He has a smaller build, a rounder face, and a next-to flawless complexion. He is slightly shy and reserved at first but has a lot of interests and hobbies. Currently, he is studying biology in school and working part time. When he is not doing either, he enjoys hiking, playing soccer, relaxing, and meditating. We enjoyed hearing about his goals and aspirations, including how he would love to visit Spain (to watch soccer games of course!) and has a life goal of visiting every continent. Botan is close with his family and speaks highly of them. He has meaningful core values, honesty and respect being the most important. We enjoy our conversations with Botan and think he would be a great donor for any family!