

Anwar N0012 Staff Impression

Anwar has a natural and effortless charm, with a clear-skinned complexion and a bright, expressive face. His green eyes are a standout feature, shining with warmth and intelligence. His short brown hair and tidy brows add a touch of neatness and polish to his overall look, which is complemented by his athletic build and muscular physique. Overall, Anwar carries himself with a quiet confidence that is truly appealing.

Anwar values hard work and education, inspired by his father's work ethic. Professionally, he works as a senior machinist at a university, where he collaborates with engineering students on their capstone projects. In his free time, he enjoys weightlifting, playing video games, and tinkering with various projects. He is passionate about fitness and wants to get back into gymnastics, a sport he enjoyed in his youth. Anwar's decision to become a sperm donor stems from his desire to help individuals struggling with infertility, particularly those in same-sex relationships or with medical conditions that make conception challenging.
