

Spinetti 14373 Staff Impression

Spinetti is a 6'1" enigma with a medium athletic build. When he's not in the zone, you can spot him rocking his signature baseball hat, a casual staple that perfectly complements his personality. His short brown hair peeks out from under the brim, while a smattering of freckles dances across his nose, giving him a boyish charm. Spinetti's eyes are a captivating shade of brown, round with a hint of an almond shape, and framed by full eyebrows. His full top lip adds to his expressive face, making every smile a little more contagious.

Spinetti is a jack-of-all-trades with a passion for both the skies and the ground. By day, he's an aircraft mechanic in the military, expertly keeping things flying high. By night, he's hitting the books, studying criminal justice with an eye on the future. In his downtime, Spinetti is a hands-on kind of guy, currently pouring his heart into restoring a classic '63 Nova. When he's not getting his hands dirty with cars, he's making music come alive. He plays the trumpet and piano, and he's adding the banjo to his repertoire for a little extra flair. A former high school baseball star, Spinetti still hits the diamonds, keeping his love for the sport alive. Family means the world to him, and he's proud of the work ethic and accomplishments he's achieved at such a young age.
