Holman is 5'9" with a small build and a heart-shaped face that adds to his unique charm. His long, dark brown hair curls slightly at the ends and gives him a relaxed look. He has round, hooded brown eyes that shine behind his glasses. With a curious gaze and a relaxed vibe, Holman brings a spark wherever he goes.

Holman is a physical therapy assistant, specializing in helping people with neurological diseases, but—he's also a math whiz who can crunch numbers faster than a calculator. Growing up, he earned his black belt in Taekwondo, so he's as tough as he is kind. When he's not balancing the books, he's balancing himself as a professional highliner, walking on high ropes like it's no big deal. Always up for an adventure, Holman loves to learn new things and even takes to the skies for some thrilling paragliding! He is a man of many talents.
