Clover is a towering figure at 6'2", with a sturdy build that gives him a solid, dependable presence. His chin-length, tight black curls frame his face, bouncing with each step, adding to his playful energy. His full beard is neatly kept, giving him a rugged charm that contrasts with his warm, approachable demeanor. Clover's light green-brown eyes are oval-shaped and often hint at his quick wit and love for fun. His straight nose is balanced perfectly, while his full cheeks round out his face, giving him a youthful look, perfect for the playful personality he exudes.

Clover is a musician with big dreams of starting his own charitable foundation, blending his love for people and passion for giving back. When he's not playing guitar or writing lyrics, you'll find him volunteering at the local library, where his charm and humor bring a smile to everyone he meets. Clover shares a tight bond with his two brothers, and their adventures together are legendary in their family. Despite being a "meat and potatoes" guy at heart, Clover has a curious palate and loves trying out oddball foods most people shy away from—he's the guy who'll eagerly taste that bizarre dish at the food festival! A fan of nostalgia, he still enjoys diving into his well-worn Calvin & Hobbes books, reliving childhood memories, and finding new joy in their playful wisdom.
