Thanom has an impressively toned build shaped by years of endurance sports. His warm brown eyes and straight black hair frame a handsome, expressive, rectangular face with high cheekbones, a straight nose with a gently curved tip, and a genuine smile that brightens his olive-toned skin.

Raised in a multicultural family with Thai and European roots, Thanom is bilingual, fluent in Thai and English. He is sharp-minded, with a talent for math, spreadsheets, and creative problem-solving from his work in digital projects. An avid runner, basketball player, hiker, and soccer fan, he thrives on outdoor challenges and team sports. He also channels his artistic side into abstract art and video content about ancient history and lost civilizations. Curious and optimistic, he is disciplined yet empathetic, a caring vegan who values independence, planning, and seeing the world from different angles. With close-knit parents who stressed empathy and growth, he dreams of being a versatile "jack of all trades" in a changing world. He believes health is true wealth. Motivated by improving medical science and helping others, Thanom donates to support families on their journey to parenthood.
